The OHSAA Division V State Baseball Champs - The Gibsonburg Golden Bears

On Saturday, roughly 30 people were invited to the Virginia Theater in Downtown North Baltimore, to get a viewing of the rough cut version of the film "Gibsonburg". The film is based on the true story of the Gibsonburg High School Golden Bear baseball team's state championship run in 2005. They finished the regular season 6 - 17.

Most of those in attendance at the showing were 16-22 years old, which is the film's target audience. The audience had students from the University of Findlay, BGSU and North Baltimore High School. Those who attended had to sign a confidentiality agreement. They were also asked to fill out an evaluation form.

The writer and director is Bob Mahaffey, a 1980 Elmwood High School graduate and independent film maker. Mahaffey owns Xcelerate Media Inc., of Dublin, Ohio.
